

CHS Jazz Ensemble To Participate In Jazz Festival

The CHS Jazz Ensemble under the direction of Anthony Hyde is scheduled to participate in the 11 annual Jazz Ensemble Festival at Berklee College of Music April 28th. The Festival consists of clinics and workshops and will end with a concert at the Berklee Performing Center by the finalists competing for the best band trophy. Citation award and $5,000 in tuition scholarships for study in music will be awarded.

In the Kiwanis International Youth Hockey Tournament, the Norwell-Scituate-Cohasset PeeWees won an 8-1 victory over Neponset. Dave Hoitt and Joe Hoffman scored two goals apiece and put the game away early with five first period goals. Tim Curran, Tim Whitlock, Jeff Neville and Rick Martin also scored during the sixth annual traditional tournament.

In the 5-6 Grade open space classroom at the Deer Hill School, the students presented 27 hand-made story books to the first grade students of the Joseph Osgood School. Supervised by their teachers, Joanne Magoun and Lawrence Shultz, the pupils in a month long project, composed, proof-read, drafted, set up galley copies, colored, printed, laminated and bound the books. Each book was about two inches thick and ring-bound. On presentation day, the students enacted skits in costume for the first graders to guess the titles. Presentations were also made with sock puppets and scroll theatres.

A birthday luncheon was hosted by Marie Johnston of Fair Oaks Road for Linda Holloran on Monday last. Attending were Helen Berrigan, Roberta Raffa, Elaine Stannard, Sally Toppan, Jane White, Sally Woods and Ellen Woolf.

South Shore Art Center Sponsors 'Spring Festival'

"Spring Festival" is the theme for the every-member display of paintings photography and children's work opening at the South Shore Art Center, Sunday, March 11.

Festivities will begin at 4 p.m. with a painting demonstration by well-known portrait artist Clement Micarelli. At 5 p.m. the Brass Ensemble from the South Shore Conservatory will give a brief recital as members, friends and guests enjoy the wine and cheese table.

A self-catered supper will follow the opening reception and will be held in the studios. Supper reservations should be made by calling 383-9548 by March 7 and are open to the public.

The mood will be informal and the event is a good opportunity for those not familiar with the Art Center to become acquainted with its members, plans and programs. For further information, call the above number during office hours which are 12-4 Monday through Friday.

Mrs. George Gurnis of Cohasset is in charge of the supper; artists Virginia Avery of Marshfield and Mary Smith of Pembroke are in charge of the exhibit with assistance from Children's teachers Marcy Baskin and Syma Komarin; artists Liz Crosby of Cohasset and Carolyn Rayburn of Hingham are in charge of the opening reception.

Guest Speaker At 2nd Cong Church

The Second Congregational Church in Cohasset will welcome a guest preacher and honor several of its members active in Girl Scouts Sunday, March 11.

Guest preacher John Martin, a retired United Church of Christ minister living in Manomet, will lead the 10 a.m. service and preach.

Lay reader for the service will be Church Treasurer Dorothy Bates, active in Scouts since 1919. Persons active as leaders or members of Girl Scouts are invited to attend wearing their uniforms.

CCC Plans Trip To Gardner

The Cohasset Community Center is planning a trip to the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum in Boston March 14.

The bus will leave the center at 10:30 a.m. and return by 5:30 p.m. The trip includes a private guided tour of the museum and a gourmet luncheon at the Museum of Fine Arts private dining room.

For reservations, call Kathy Stevens at 383-1733. All reservations must be made by Friday.

Also from the center is news that the refurbished automatic candlepin bowling alleys will open Monday.

They will be open and supervised weekday evenings from 5 to 11 and on weekends from noon until 11 p.m. These hours may be expanded in the future.

Bowlers are asked to wear bowling shoes, tennis sneakers, deck shoes or stocking feet. You must be a member of the center to bowl.

Members interested in league bowling may contact Jim Drysdale at 383-6661 or Daniel O'Connell at the center.

And in other center business, the board of directors has announced that the function room on the main floor is nearing completion.
